

JOB OFFER: PRODUCT DESIGNER

(M/F/D)

What: Permanent position, full-time

When: now

Where: Erfurt, Bahnhofstr. 5a

plazz is a Software as a Service provider in the B2B sector based in Munich and Erfurt. For more than 7 years, we have successfully distributed the Mobile Event App - a customized white label product for the digitalization of events - with which we serve customers such as Volkswagen, Telekom or Infineon. We develop event apps, employee solutions and the associated content management system and are currently establishing a new platform with which we want to make the potential of digitization tangible for everyone.

For this product vision, we are looking for an experienced Product Designer who will actively support us as part of our cross-functional team in the design and development of this platform and its features.

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT 1/2

Conceive and design new features that visually fit into the design of the rest of the product. You will accompany the process from the idea to the design prototype to the acceptance of the final realization.

Support the design system build, including maintaining and expanding our design libraries in Figma.

Develop intuitive user interfaces that combine learned behavior, common UX conventions, and platform-specific behavior.

Use design tools and techniques to identify, solve and communicate issues. You will work cross-functionally with our Design, Development and Customer Support teams.

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT 2/2

- Within the first few months...
  - You will get to know our team and the agile processes;
  - You will be introduced to the product, the current realization and existing design files in the form of a companion program to build a general understanding of the product;
  - You can try out the different areas of platform design and find out which is your specialty.
- After half a year...
  - You take on conceptual topics independently;
  - Organize and lead design critiques and other feedback meetings;
  - You take over the representation of other team members in case of absence.
- After one year...
  - You can adopt the different platform designs as needed;
  - You support the team with the designs of the administration interface.

WHAT WE EXPECT

- 2+ years of experience designing software products, ideally in the B2B SaaS space;
  - Plus points if you've worked on both web and mobile app designs and/or have experience designing administrative interfaces.
- Knowledge of using Figma, or motivation and a good grasp to learn and master new programs as well;
- Good analytical skills, solution-oriented approach and willingness to proactively tackle problems and take on tasks;
- Attention to detail, openness to suggestions for improvement, and ability to give constructive criticism to other team members;
- Good to very good English skills for team communication;
- Passion for design and the will to develop yourself and your designs.
- The user and user-centered design are the be-all and end-all for you, and it's worth defending design decisions to the team as well.

WHAT WE OFFER

- Growing social benefits with seniority (e.g. additional budget for health promotion measures from permanent employment).
- Regular retrospectives within the department, as well as all-hands meetings and team events with the Company.
- Space to take on responsibility at an early stage
